Big 4 Parley Is Deadlocked

PARIS, (AP)—The foreign ministers' council recessed after a morning meeting Monday, still deadlocked on the question of sending out invitations for a 21-power peace conference July 29.

Arguments that have marked Foreign Minister Molotov's appearance at the meeting for a peace conference unless they were accompanied by a strict code of rules for its procedure were repeated again Monday in the face of pleas by State Secretary Byrnes of the United States and Britain's Foreign Secretary Bevin to have the invitations go out immediately.

Mr. Byrnes said they were willing to discuss procedure rules as suggestions but would not attempt to foist them on the other countries.

The ministers were to resume their session late Monday. Sources close to the council said failure to reach an immediate solution of the procedural problems upon which the foreign ministers have been deadlocked since Friday night might result in indefinite postponement of the proposed peace conference.

Tass news agency, meanwhile, injected a new note of dissonance into the proceedings by stating the British, American and French representatives had begun "secret" talks concerning Germany from which Russia was being excluded.

Tass said there was speculation in Paris that the reported talks "concern not only economic but also other questions."

Whether there was any foundation for the Tass report could not immediately be ascertained. There have been private meetings here outside the foreign ministers' council and government officials from Belgium and Czechoslovakia—countries that might have claims against Germany—have conferred privately with the ministers, including Molotov of Russia, there have been no official indications of the nature of these talks.

An American source said Russia was demanding that two-thirds vote rule be extended to the peace conference plenary session.

At one point, Mr. Molotov was reported to have accused the United States of trying to "divide the peace conference." He also argued that if the ministers did not decide on rules, they were running counter to the Trieste agreement.

Mr. Byrnes reported that at the peace conference, the Trieste and all other agreements would be up for discussion.

Plane Makes Landing on Railroad Tracks

Passengers walked unhurt from this huge U.S. airline mainliner after it made an emergency landing on a railroad right-of-way shortly after taking off from the Chicago airport. It was headed for New York. Pilot and stewardess were reported slightly hurt. Both engines quit shortly after the take-off. Without sufficient air speed to glide back to the field, the pilot expertly skidded the machine down on the railroad tracks. The plane veered electric and telephone lines and levelled the fence in the foreground.

Truman, Byrnes Enter Battle For Big U.S. Loan to Britain

WASHINGTON, (AP)—President Truman and State Secretary Byrnes stepped directly into the fight over the British credit Monday as some administration leaders privately voiced concern about the impending house vote on the huge transaction.

The Senate already has approved the loan.

Mr. Truman sent a letter to Chairman Brent Spence (Dem., Ky.) of the house of representatives asking him to expedite the request for congressional approval of the proposed $3,750,000,000 credit.

Rep. Spence will read the letter to the house, opening four days of debate on the loan agreement.

Mr. Byrnes called Rep. Spence from Paris that the loan is essential to the welfare of Britain and world peace. Mr. Byrnes is attending the foreign ministers' conference.

Some administration quarters voiced concern that the British policy on the Jewish question in Palestine may injure chances for peace ratification of the British loan.

But, taking account of the tough situation, chairman Sol. Bloom (Dem., N.Y.) of the foreign affairs committee said he would support the loan.

Suggests Truman Open to Jewish Tide

JERUSALEM, (CP)—Threats of a possible Arab civil disobedience program in protest against Jewish immigration to Palestine were couched Monday with an Arab alarm by President Truman and a suggestion that he open the United States to Jewish immigrants "if he really is in sympathy" with them.

Dr. H. F. Khalidi of the Arab higher executive committee said his group was drafting a new note to Britain warning that unless the British government took immediate steps to halt the illegal entry of Jews into Palestine there would be "a wave of non-co-operation by Arabs, followed possibly by civil disobedience."

"After that," the spokesman said, "the next step may be mass demonstrations by Arabs, and this executive will refuse to accept responsibility for them."

Khalidi's statement came as the executive committee disclosed it had drafted a letter to President Truman accusing him of "flagrant, empty and irresponsible statements" in connection with the problem of Jewish immigration to Palestine.

The note was prepared in reply to a White House statement that the United States was prepared to assume technical and financial responsibility for the transportation of 100,000 European Jewish refugees to Palestine in accordance with recent recommendations of the Anglo-American inquiry committee.

The general situation in Palestine appeared little changed, although the Jewish resistance movement had been weakened by recent raids in which more than 2,000 persons were arrested and hidden stores of arms and munitions were destroyed.

Police said Monday nearly 1,000 of more than 2,000 Jews taken into custody by British authorities had been released. Most of those released were under 16 or over 70.

In London Sunday approximately 3,000 Jews, including 200 European orphans with concentration camp numbers tattooed on their arms, marched to Trafalgar square in a protest against the raids.

"Later a delegation took a petition to 10 Downing street, urging the release of arrested Jews and the carrying out of the British-American committee's immigration recommendations."

CANTERBURY, (CP)—Dr. Geoffrey Fisher, Archbishop of Canterbury, rejected Monday a protest by Dr. H. F. Khalidi of the Arab higher executive committee, and supported the British government's policy of restricting Jewish immigration to Palestine.

The future of Palestine, the Archbishop said at his diocesan conference, was in no way prejudged by the government's action in restricting Jewish immigration to Palestine.

Police and military operations in which more than 2,000 Jews were arrested and held in custody, to make it clear the future would not be settled by violence.

City's Population 114,976; One-Year Increase is 3,231

Edmonton's 1946 population was 114,976, an increase of 3,231 over the 1945 figure, according to the city's annual report on population figures released Monday by Thomas Walker, city assessor.

Of the 1946 total, 87,173 were resident on the north side and 27,803 on the south side. In the 1945 total 86,063 resided on the north side, and 25,663 on the south side.

The census recorded in the 1946 census was 1,130 on the north side, and 1,131 on the south side.

The north side increase is the lowest in recent years, while the south side increase is exceptional. It is due largely to the erection of 250 Wartime Housing Corporation houses in the district, and 238 units in the Bonnie Doon and Parkdale areas.

The breakdown of the 1946 census figures shows there are 77,806 persons more than 20 years resident in the city, and 10,037 more females than males in the city.

There are 55,841 males and 55,841 females 59,233. Male residents on the north side totalled 42,136, and 14,097 on the south side.

The south side males totalled 13,059 and females 14,598.

The population of the city in 1945 was 53,703 and the female, 58,042. Of the male population 41,747 and the female, 56,295.

Redin Denies Spy Charges

SEATTLE, (AP)—Lieut. Nicolai G. Redin of the Russian Navy denied from the witness stand in his espionage-conspiracy trial Saturday that he had ever paid any money to a Seattle shipyard.

He answered queries by Defence Counsel Irvin Goodman as to a series of conversations which Herbert Kennedy, Scottish-born engineer, had testified he had with Redin.

Point by point, he denied that any such conversations had ever occurred. Mr. Kennedy told last week of selling Redin information on the destroyer tender Yellowstone, built in a Seattle shipyard.

Redin's lawyer said he had no further questions to ask.

Jury To Decide Fate of German

MEDICINE HAT, (CP)—The case of Sgt. Walter Wolf, German prisoner-of-war charged with the manslaughter of a Canadian soldier, Cpl. Karl Lehmann, in the Medicine Hat camp Sept. 10, 1944, probably will go to a federal supreme court jury Monday.

Crown Prosecutor W. D. Gow completed his address to the jury Saturday. He asked the jurors to consider the case as one of "cold-blooded premeditated killing."

He told the jurors that "if you see a man, a free man, a Canadian, that foreigners are allowed to do as they please in this country."

Defence Counsel G. E. A. Rice, who previously was denied an application to have the case against Wolf withdrawn and tried by military courts-martial in Germany, was to address the jury Monday.

Wolf is one of four German prisoners charged with the murder and sentenced to hang at the internment camp who, witnesses have testified, was regarded as a "traitor" by the Canadian soldiers.

Parity Late For Calgary

CALGARY, (CP)—The restoration of the Canadian dollar to parity with the United States dollar apparently came too late to benefit the City of Calgary which paid out $298,515 as a premium of U.S. funds required to redeem about $2,800,000 in Calgary debentures payable in U.S. funds, which were called on July 1.

Britons Hoping for Bumper Wheat Crop From Own Farmlands

2,000,000 Acres Are Planted; Estimate 67,000,000 Bushels

Canadians To Save Billions Through Levelling Off Dollar

Dollar Parity Expected Give British Goods Better Chance

By Basil Dean

LONDON.—Two million acres of British farm land planted with wheat this year are expected to yield about 67,000,000 bushels, agricultural experts here say, from a minimum of 32 to a maximum of 96 bushels per acre, depending on the weather during the next six weeks.

This estimate is made by the London Times in its first crop report for 1946. The Times' agricultural correspondent calculates the yield should average 93 percent of a maximum crop per acre—better than any year except two of the last six years.

"Most of the wheat looks well," says the correspondent. "If dull damp weather continues there is a serious risk that will reduce wheat yields and that heads would be fully filled at harvest."

British acreage available for wheat is only about one-tenth of an average Canadian planting, and even this figure is reached only by ploughing up pasture land. Even so, the labor government has been critical acreage on farmers this year—for the first time since 1939 there was no compulsory crop direction—and ensuring a minimum of 2,500,000 acres. In 1943, under the war production act, the Atlantic battle, three million acres were reserved for wheat. The truth is that British agricultural ministry was caught by a world wheat famine, which it did not foresee when winter wheat was planted in fall. By the time full impact of famine was upon world, it was too late to reverse the trend and get more wheat planted. Perhaps belatedly, the situation is being remedied for the 1947 harvest, but most dryness in the world is for the 1948 crop.

With a guaranteed immediate demand for their crops, many British farmers will use wheat for food. This year, however, the high moisture content of British wheat will be a serious handicap if it is to be stored. Some British farms have their own drying plants, but most drying has been done in large-scale plants set up by the food ministry during war years.

New Map Issued Of Canada, U.S.

By Peter Inglis

WASHINGTON.—What war has done to the continent of North America is shown up in a new map published by the National Geographic Society. It demonstrates how wartime speeded up the normal process by which communities are created. New lakes are created behind new dams, place names are changed to reflect current events.

The 10-color map, which the society says is the result of six months of research and preparation, carries 10,750 place names, a new record, and some famous new ones among them.

"Bomb" Towns

There are, for instance, two atom-bomb towns—Oak Ridge, Tennessee, whose pre-war population of 75 died in a plane crash in 1945, and which has now grown into a city of 70,000 souls, and Hiroshima, Japan, which has boomed from 700 to 15,000.

Other newcomers turn the gamut of war and post-war history: Bretton Woods, New Hampshire, scene of the International monetary conference; Boca Raton, Florida, famous Army Air Force radar training center; Inyokern, California, where a city sprang up around a naval research testing station in the middle of a blank spot on earlier maps.

Try on the top left-hand corner of the map, across the Canadian border, is Mount Eisenhower in Alberta's Banff National Park. It used to be Castle Mountain.

New Lake

A bit farther down, in the state of Washington, is Franklin D. Roosevelt Lake, created by the waters of Grand Coulee Dam.

The National Geographic Society, which has to do the drawing of its maps months in advance of printing, bombed in one respect, an inset in one corner shows the "United Nations area" on the Connecticut-New York boundary, which never came into being because of the bitter local opposition.

Another user will delight in the hearts of Canadians. It is labeled "east of Maine" and is a map of the summer resort area, or the dominion's maritime province.

Delegates Rap U.N. Affiliate

LONDON. (CP)—Canadian and other delegates to the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization preparatory commission Monday criticized its secretary for failing to provide a financial statement to the commission and said it was oversteering its course.

Under fire was a lengthy memorandum tabled Saturday outlining almost 150 possible projects for universal use.

Frederic Hudd, deputy to the Canadian ambassador to the commission, recalled Canada had demonstrated her support in practical fashion by "collecting a large number of educational supplies to be sent to the children of war-torn countries and by providing instructional records in several languages."

"Because of our interest," he said, "we feel that U.N.E.S.C.O.'s performance should be commensurate to our participation." "Collecting a large number of educational supplies to be sent to the children of war-torn countries and by providing instructional records in several languages."

"We should emphasize efficient organization and more strictly financial aims," Hudd said. "Our projects should be carefully considered and their aims more precise."

He called for caution lest the U.N.E.S.C.O. duplicate work of other organizations and said plans should be approved only "if they can be approved for and effectively carried out."

J. Idenburg, Netherlands delegate, charged the secretary with a "materialistic outlook" saying that through the U.N.E.S.C.O. he was as one of spreading knowledge yet nowhere was mentioned the seeking of peace, of churches and religious organizations.

Norway's delegate, Dr. Sommerfeldt, called on the organization to begin its work with a world-wide assault on illiteracy.

Invade Island, Steal $12,000

WINNIPEG. (CP)—Six armed and masked men early Monday morning invaded a small island off the coast of Bob-Lo Island, held up four employees and stole $12,000.

Bob-Lo is a Canadian island in the Detroit river. It is leased to a United States amusement company. The employees were forced to sit at a picnic table, heads down, while the thieves scooped up the amusement center's weekend receipts.

Earth Is Sent To Kin Of Dead

ADRIEN, Belgium. (CP)—From a score of cities and towns of northern Belgium, more than 3,000 Belgian men, women and children came to the Canadian army cemetery here to commemorate the Canadians who took part in the liberation of this country.

At each Canadian grave stood a little Belgian girl in a white dress, holding a small flag. The ceremony began by the girls placing their wreaths on the graves, followed by the Canadian soldiers, bearing the name of the dead soldier with his rank, regiment and a painted Maple Leaf.

Mr. Justice Turegon Canadian ambassador to Belgium, was presented with small bags of earth taken from the graves to be sent to Canada to the next-of-kin of the men buried here.

night, will necessarily have to be increased by top level government finance sources, it is figured that on the basis of about $1,000,000,000 production of wheat in Canada, Canadians will be saved about $1,000,000,000 by reason of levelling up the Canadian to the American dollar.

This is figured on the theory that except for removal of the exchange differential, prices and costs in Canada, due to their close interrelation with those of the United States, inevitably would have risen by another 10 percent.

It is admitted that a general price rise throughout the dominion is now inevitable. But by levelling up the Canadian dollar with the American, as Mr. Hon. J. L. Riley, finance minister, pointed out Friday night, the dominion government can retain a substantial measure of control over prices.

Early losses for newspaper issues were great in the afternoon. Monday Point losses were netted in the mining groups by Bell and Kerr.

Winnipeg Grain

WINNIPEG. (CP)—It was a dull day on the Winnipeg grain exchange Monday, with little trading in the market in either July, October or December futures.

No export contracts were made. The full five-cent limit allowed in one day's trading in the market was not reached.

At close they were: July 30/31; Oct. 26 1/2; Dec. 25 1/2. The market was quiet, with the equalization of the Canadian dollar with that of the United States.

Montreal Stocks

MONTREAL. (CP)—Prices were sharply reduced in transactions Monday on the Montreal stock exchange and the market was in a slump.

Under the leadership of papers, industrial, metals and other groups were down. The market was in a slump.

Toronto Livestock

TORONTO. (CP)—Cattle sales on the market early Monday were too few to establish a market trend. A few fed yearlings brought $13-15 and a few calves $10-12.

Lambs were steady with good ewes and wethers, 17 delivered by truck. A few good yearlings were $8-10. A few good yearlings were $8-10.

London Stocks

LONDON. (AP)—British stock closed steady Monday in the London market. The market was in a slump.

Wholesale Trade Grows

OTTAWA. (CP)—Wholesale sales were 36 percent greater in May this year than last and nine percent greater in June.

OTTAWA. (CP)—The 10 percent loss in the value of the British pound in terms of the Canadian dollar as a result of the exchange being brought into parity with the American dollar will give certain British goods a competitive position in the Canadian market and much depends on what extent the British exporters will have goods to take advantage of cost change, trade experts said Monday.

As Canada's loan to Britain in terms of Canadian dollars, the loan will not be "worn out" any sooner, with the higher value of the dollar and as the time for repayment is so long delayed the amount of the loan will be paid. The loan will depend on the rate of exchange at that time rather than now.

For a time after the war British exporters found it impossible to produce certain types of goods that could be sold under the Canadian price ceiling. To meet this situation they were allowed in on a production cost basis and often sold higher than the competitive goods made in Canada and under the ceiling.

Such British goods found the competitive goods made in Canada with the greater premium on the Canadian dollar, the return to the British manufacturer, which was correspondingly increased and may enable him to meet Canadian prices.

Trade experts see this as the most important way in which the increased value of the Canadian dollar can boost British imports. Persons in Canada receiving remittances in sterling will receive 10 percent more off than before the value of the dollar was increased.

Compensation awarded last year by the eight workers' compensation boards in Canada (excluding Prince Edward Island, which has no compensation act) totaled $45,107,289.39, an increase of almost 10 percent over the 1944 awards, and an all-time high to date.

Commenting on the high awards, Mr. Manock said, "It is quite evident that industry has been forced to pay more attention to accident prevention in its production plants."

By providing the 1946 accident statistics, the boards have shown that the value of the Canadian dollar is being equalized with that of the United States.

Eleven Killed In East Mishaps

TORONTO. (CP)—Car and truck accidents were blamed for five of the 11 fatal accidents recorded across eastern Canada during the week-end. Two persons were drowned and four met death in a variety of mishaps.

Canadian Stocks Rise

LONDON. (CP Cable)—Canadian securities were sharply on the stock exchange Monday with International Nickel up from 52 1/2 to 53 1/2, Canadian Pacific 23 1/2 to 24 1/2, and Canadian National 14 1/2 to 15 1/2.

Why Grow Old?

And here's another for slimming the central portion of the body. Actress Suzi Crandall shows you how. Try to touch the nose and knees together.

BY JOSEPHINE LOWMAN
Q. "What can I do to slim the central portion of my body? I am too thick. Please give me an exercise."
A. The following one is good. Stand (a) with the feet apart and with the arms raised overhead. Stretch toward the ceiling with your exercises. (b) will probably take several months. Many many women have increased their bust measurements through the use of these exercises.

Q. "I recently I sent for your exercises for developing the bust. I would like to know how long it will take to see the results. Also, are these guaranteed to help?"
A. Individuals vary. It depends on how much and how well you do your exercises. It will probably take several months. Many many women have increased their bust measurements through the use of these exercises.

Q. "I wonder if you can help me in my present, almost impossible condition? I will soon be 54 years old and am sadly trying to hold on to youth. I have never married and for a living, I have been around my eyes and my throat and chin are beginning to wrinkle. I have had a bad cold for several weeks. I would like to know how long it will take to see the results. Also, are these guaranteed to help?"
A. I feel that facial and neck exercises will be of value to you. Also of course lubrication and massage along the lines. It takes time for these lines to lessen but I feel that you can improve them and arrest their development. Watch your posture and be sure that you are not allowing your head to settle down into your neck. Be careful about the frowning habit for that is probably the reason for the line between your eyes.

Q. "Can a person eat more than three slices of whole wheat bread at a time? I like to eat bread more than any thing else."
A. Usually in the reducing diet bread is restricted to three calories allowed each day. It will take to see the results. Also, are these guaranteed to help?"
A. Wash your face in soap and water four times a day. Do not put cream on it if it is oily. Use an astringent.

Q. "I am fifteen years old and want to know how I can have a smoother chin and forehead? I have a few pimples on these which could be kept away, maybe?"

Big Drop in Goldeye Catch
Being Probed by Biologists

BY DAVE QUEEN

WINNIPEG, July 8-(CP)—The case of the vanishing goldeye is baffling Manitoba biologists and fish culturists and the goldeye is offering no co-operation at all toward a solution.

In the last three years the Manitoba catch—and this province traditionally is the home of the goldeye, although Saskatchewan and Alberta contribute their share—has decreased steadily. It touched a low of 495,000 pounds in 1943-44, dropped to 234,000 last year to an alarming 43,000 last summer.

The winter's figures have yet to be compiled but although they always exceed the summer catch, the total is expected to show another drop. Spurred by the disappointment of the gourmets, fisheries experts are trying to remedy the situation.

Ever since marketing of the fish the goldeye has been remarkable for a fluctuating in reproductive capacity. For no apparent reason the annual catch rose and fell and when this fluctuation turned to a steady decrease the fishermen and experts became alarmed.

Dr. William Sprules of the federal government's Central Fisheries Research Station in Winnipeg has been working on the reproductive habits of the goldeye for the last year. He doesn't expect to complete his research for another three or four years.

His chief task is to find out all he can about the fish's reproductive habits. Once armed with this knowledge, fisheries men may be able to check the decline in population. But the goldeye is a fish that is hard to catch.

Dr. Sprules gets isn't the best. One thing has been discovered. While other fish—pike, pickerel and whitefish, for example, accept artificial fertilization the goldeye won't.

A theory about the falling off in population is that the goldeye lays its eggs in marshes in the early spring. When decomposition of matter under the rotting marsh exhausts the oxygen, many of the young fish die. Then when the water is clear, the survivors, some of the survivors die. Dr. Sprules is testing this theory on his summer and a number of university students have been assigned to various dams to open them and permit flooding of the marshes at intervals.

But man and other fish play their part in lowering the goldeye population too. The pickerel and jackfish are natural enemies of the goldeye and when fish commands are issued, the goldeye is caught in nets set for other fish.

Robert Firth, an Englishman, is credited with discovering the goldeye back in 1890. Like many another discovery it was accidental—or so the story goes. He was attempting to smoke a goldeye but instead cooked it. When he tasted it he liked it so much he decided to share his find and market the fish.

The official method for cooking a goldeye—at least it's the one advocated by fisheries department cookbooks—is to remove the head, place the fish in a pan with a little water and then place the pan in an oven. The skin can be removed shortly after and the fish replaced in the oven with butter and lemon added if desired.

Bill Gadsby Signs Pro Contract for Chicago Black Hawks

Wet Weather Plays Havoc With Weekend Ball Games

There's no City Senior Baseball league circles these times in stormy weather. With three games scheduled for the weekend at Kenmore park the California team which has been playing the efforts of the diamond promoters all season slowed the program down to just one.

Sunday afternoon Cubs and Cards managed to get the rain out of the almost daily rainstorm necessitated a halt to the proceedings. Score was 1-1.

Great Mound Duel
Veteran Tommy Brant and Mortimer Hawkey turned in great ball performances in the snow. The former gave up but one hit to the Cards. Ernie Marlowe getting him for a single into right field in the second frame.

Hawkey was touched for a trio of blows. A double by Tom Kelly scored Marlowe. With three runs in the first inning, Marlowe and Ken McCauley later got to him for one-runners.

The Card chucker counted his runs only run, after drawing a base-on-balls to start the bottom half of the last inning.

Duel Went Pin-It
Art Flores, Esk shortstop, and one of the season's best weekday players, were the losers when he Saturday Esk-Card tilt was touched out after four frames.

Three had reached Leo Douche for three hits in as many trips to the plate when the 3-3 game was called.

Many in the crowd had come specially to see an advertised Douche-Better pitching struggle. The main act blew up when Better's unable to go to the mound, he was benched, and suddenly Bill Whyte was the stand-in.

Score by innings Sunday:
Cubs 100 00 1 3 1
Cards 000 00 1 1 1

Brant and McCauley; Hawkey and Arista.

Husky Junior Defenceman Starred With Canadians

Bill Gadsby, 18-year old Calgary product who played defence for the Canadian juniors over the past two seasons, has been signed by the Chicago Black Hawks of the National Hockey League.

William J. (Bill) Tobin, president of the Chicago organization, Sunday made the announcement of Gadsby's acquisition. "He will," said the one-time Edmonton Eskimo, "be given every opportunity to catch a place with the Hawks."

The 173-pound defenceman captained the Canadians last season. He played stellar hockey as Canucks battled their way into the western Canada finals. There, Winnipeg Monarchs, eventual winners of the Memorial cup, slanted the Edmonton crew to the sidelines.

While still playing in the Calgary Midget league, Gadsby attracted the attention of the Cleveland Monarchs of the A.H.L. The Clevelanders transported the then 16-year old puckster to their camp and the Baron brass looked him over from close range. They liked what they saw.

In time the Chicago and Cleveland organizations made a deal transferring Gadsby to the Black Hawks reserve list.

Ken Henry, manager of Canadians and a scout who has spent many hours in the assembly of a "C" team club, said that while Gadsby's shoes would take considerable filling, the won't most valuable player award in the Edmonton Junior circuit, season 1940 he was, along with other officials of the club, "pleased that Bill was getting his chance under what appeared to be a bright future."

The latest Hawk recruit was born in England, Aug. 9, 1927. He joined the Canadian team at the start of the 1944-45 season.

Tom Brown and Jack Kramer stamped themselves a potential Davis cup doubles combination with an impressive "winning" over the highly rated Australian pair, Dinky Paul and Geoff Brown, 6-4, 6-4, 6-2, in the men's doubles final.

Tom Brown later teamed with Miss Brough to capture his second championship by defeating Geoff Brown and Dorothy Bundy, 4-6, 4-6, in the final of mixed doubles.

The All-American in women's doubles saw Miss Brough and Margaret Osborne outlast Miss Bessie and Doris Hart of Miami, Fla., 6-3, 2-6, 6-3, in the final of mixed doubles.

Only championship that escaped the first Wimbledon since 1939 was the highly priced men's tennis quarter-towering Yvon Petra of France won Frier with a five-set victory over Geoff Brown.

McIlwren scored over Orison at 2-6, 6-1, 6-3, 2-6, 6-1. The Henning-Johnson encounter also went the limit before the former prevailed by a 6-4, 7-9, 8-10, 7-5, 6-3.

THE PHYSICALLY DISABLED VETERAN —
A straightforward approach to his employment

HERE ARE THE FACTS:

The job efficiency and working habits of the physically disabled are well illustrated by a survey of 100 firms employing substantial numbers of disabled. Of the 100 firms, 55 found absenteeism lower for the physically disabled, 40 found it the same as with the so-called able bodied, and only 5 found it higher for the physically disabled. Labour turnover was lower for the physically disabled in 85 cases, the same in 16 and higher for the disabled in only 1 case. The accident rate was lower for the physically disabled in 57 cases and higher among physically disabled in only 2 cases. Productivity among the disabled was lower in 10 cases only. In 56 cases this was considered the same, and in 34 cases productivity was higher among the disabled.

IN CANADA today approximately 25,000 veterans have some type of physical disability as an aftermath of war. The vast majority of them who are ready for employment are being absorbed into the country's economy, and are providing proof that a physical disability need not be a job handicap. There are, among those employed, full-time farmers, log scalers, telephone linemen, clerks, accountants, watch makers. There is scarcely a field in which physically disabled veterans are not successful.

The answer to successful employment of the physically disabled is in the normal approach. They are normal people. There are many things they can do. There are few of which they are not capable. They should be employed, as are the so-called able bodied, on the basis of what they can do. If, for instance, a job does not require the use of legs, then that job can be done efficiently by a double leg amputee.

As with the so-called able bodied, factors other than physical are important. These are things such as knowledge, personal attitude, and aptitude. The physically disabled should be employed, as in the case of others, with these things in mind. They do not want employment on the basis of charity, or because it is felt the country owes them a living.

Before the physically disabled veteran enters the employment stream, through treatment his disability has been reduced to the minimum. Where required, he has been supplied with appliances to replace, insofar as possible, the lost physical capacities. Many have received specialized training in occupations in which their disability is not a handicap.

Available to the veteran and to industry are the services of men specially trained in the employment of the physically disabled. In the Department of Veterans Affairs these men are known as Casualty Rehabilitation Officers. The Department of Labour makes assistance available through the Special Placement Section of the National Employment Service.

If you wish assistance in the employment of the physically disabled, discuss it with these officers. They are at your service to assist in analyzing job requirements and assessing the capacity of the veteran.

Atom Smashed Coral On Bottom of Ocean

BY HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE

Associated Press Science Writer
Aboard U.S.S. Appalachian, July 8 (AP)—The atomic bomb smashed the coral on the bottom of Bikini Lagoon 100 feet below the surface of the water.

THIS WAS ONE of the many unexpected blows struck by the air bomb released July 1. These blows make it appear certain that ravines and ships of the future must be redesigned even to meet the threat of this least formidable type of atomic attack.

Close up pictures taken from the photographic tower show the bomb scoured everything in a circle of more than a mile in a direct blaze of fire.

A moment after the bomb was detonated a terrific tornado roared over the entire guinea pig fleet. This was an atomic tornado with a blow-torch-like centre. Its apparent diameter on the water's surface was more than half a mile.

PHOTOGRAPHS SHOW that directly under the bomb the water was momentarily depressed. Under the tremendous force of the atomic slap the water reacted like an anvil.

The smashing of the coral on the bottom occurred about under this depression. The first close up photo shows only streamers of bright light. The second shows the start of a ball of fire. This fire ball more than a mile wide, is the exact shape of the sun rising just half way over the horizon.

The next photo is a surprise. The fire ball has momentarily disappeared. In its place are what looks like fog banks, perhaps nearly 1,000 feet high. Ships that were not covered by the original fire ball have waving plumes wreathing more than mast high. These plumes probably are steam vapor.

THE NEXT PICTURE shows a smoke plume from the carrier Saratoga's deck. In this picture also begins the atomic tornado, the start of an upshooting column of fire and cloud. In its initial shape it is a high pointed dome more than 1,000 feet tall.

Just about where the tornado appeared above the steam and smoke is the area where five ships sank.

Cryolite or ice-stone, used in making aluminum, is found in commercial quantities only in Greenland.

Money Black Market Flourishes in Paris

By HAYNES THOMPSON
PARIS, July 8. (BUP)—Black market traffic in American dollars and British pounds is so well organized here that, although invisible, one phase of the market operates within the official Bourse itself.

ACTUALLY THERE are three illegal markets buying and selling dollars and pounds informally.

One is just outside the Bourse on Rue Notre Dame des Victoires, and the third along the sidewalks between the Opera and the Madeleine, that part of Paris most frequented by British and American businessmen and visitors.

Although the sidewalk market is the smallest so far as buying and selling goes, to the casual observer it appears the largest.

EVERY HUNDRED YARDS or so in the Opera-Madeleine district, someone tugs at your sleeve and wants to know in broken English if you've got anything to sell, meaning dollars or pounds.

If you say no, that's his invitation to pursue the subject.

Most of these men are young, generally in their late teens or early twenties. Some of them have regular jobs and operate along the sidewalks during off hours.

THEY HAVE THEIR own reasons for being in the business. Many will tell you frankly they prefer it to working regular hours. It's an easier life. They say regular jobs, if you're unskilled, don't pay enough in France to live on, especially if you have a family.

So the dollars they buy are quickly resold at a neat profit.

A few admittedly are amateurs. One 26-year-old youth, a shop salesman by day, said he had an uncle in the United States whom he hoped to visit next year. He's sending the dollars he buys to the uncle. To him it's a means of converting his francs into dollars.

ALTHOUGH THEY MAKE their contacts on the sidewalk, the operators never do their buying in the open.

All have some back room in a nearby cafe or cheap hotel where the money actually changes hands in safety. The proprietor, who also gets his cut keeps a watchful eye for police or "strangers" who might be plainclothesmen.

But if you are a visitor with dollars, you probably will be asked to sell them long before you reach the Opera district.

One American business man, arriving by train from Le Havre, had scarcely stepped off the train when he was approached by the porter, who was more interested in buying his dollars than in carrying his luggage.

THE TAXI DRIVER who took him to his hotel had the same idea. So did the bellhop who showed him to his room.

But this is small town business. The "big money" transactions take place within and just outside the Bourse. They run into many thousands of dollars, and are negotiated on an international basis.

Here dollar and pound quotations which vary daily, come in from countries all over Europe. It's these quotations that the local black market prices are fixed.

The first quotations come in at 12:30 p.m. A few minutes later every operator in Paris knows the current price.

Like the sidewalk market, no money changes hands at the Bourse, it's too dangerous. But it's at the Bourse that sales are made. The money changes hands later at some appointed time and place.

MOST OF THE BOURSE operators are middle men, working for about 1½ to two per cent.

According to informants, by far the majority of dollars bought at the Bourse are used for the purchase of gold dollars in Switzerland.

Others however are used for buying goods in America, while still others are bought by wartime black marketeers eager to convert their large sums of unobtainable francs to a more sound currency.

The latter generally hoard their dollars or pounds.

Although the black market price of the dollar is still more than double the official rate of exchange of 120 francs, the current price of 270 to 275 francs per dollar represents a nose dive from previous quotations.

BEFORE THE RECENT elections when France failed to go further left, as was expected, the illegal price of the dollar at one time reached 350 francs and that of the pound sterling 900, as compared to JOURNEY'S END: This gallant ship — one of Canada's famed corvettes — will make one more trip across the Atlantic. But this time there will be no bristling guns; the vessel will be transported in the form of tin cans containing life-saving food for the starving peoples of Europe. This ship and six sister corvettes have been purchased from War Assets Corporation by a Hamilton foundry for conversion to tin cans.

A study of marriage adjustment of 536 married couples by Drs. Burgess and Cottrell, as reported in their informative book, "Predicting Success or Failure in Marriage" completely invalidates the old idea that young couples should marry soon after they become engaged. Postponement of marriage usually favors adjustment and harmony after marriage. The best length of courtship was found to be between three and five years, while those of less than a year showed much greater problems of adjustment. Courtships of three months or less showed a 30 per cent greater risk of failure after marriage.

Big Agriculture Display for Fair

Balanced agriculture provides security—that's the theme of the large display of the Dominion department of agriculture at the Edmonton fair which opens Monday, July 15.

IN A FIFTY-FOOT display decorated with illustrated panels and colored transparencies, the department advocates the advantages to western farmers in growing their own, vegetables and storing them properly, keeping poultry and a few cows and sheep, conserving the soil, and producing feed grains and marketing some of them in the form of pork.

Beautification of the farm home and its grounds also receives prominence in this display which features the model of a farm home before and after improvement, illustrating the value of the exhibit's slogan, "Make Your Farm a Home."

INDEED, THERE ARE several models in this display which will interest the western farmer. There is a model of a general purpose barn built in such a way that those who attend the Edmonton fair can enjoy a clear view of its construction and interior. It is built on a lot of three-quarters of an inch to the foot—a scale which applies to additional models of a modern pigsty, an implement shed, a combination farm garage and workshop, a double deck laying house (a regular egg factory for the commercial poultryman), a single storey laying house for the average farm, a well-designed farm home, and a modern farm kitchen.

TO ANSWER QUESTIONS about kitchen and cooking problems, two home economists of the Dominion department of agriculture will be in attendance at the exhibit and the director of the department's publicity and extension, F. C. Nunick, and his assistants will be present to answer questions about diversified agriculture and to recommend helpful bulletins.

There is at least one new idea for every member of the prairie farm family in the Dominion department of agriculture exhibit at the Edmonton fair.

By William E. McKenney
America's Card Authority
Albert A. Ostrow has written a new book entitled "The Complete Card Player" that is both complete and easy to understand. Naturally Mr. Ostrow knows a great many bridge players, and he says, "The majority play just an average game, and they get a lot of fun out of little tricks that fool the opponents."

He gave me today's hand as a demonstration.

The opponents cashed the first two club tricks and led the third club, which was ruffed in dummy with the six-spot. Now the queen of spades was led. East refused to cover and played the seven-spot. Declarer took the finesse and West's dealer was out.

The play of the seven-spot by East was a puzzle for the declarer. If East had held the king-seven originally, he would have covered in order to insure a trump trick. So declarer, reading East for the king-seven, played the eight-spot from dummy.

When East played the four, there was no way for the declarer to keep the opponents from getting a trump trick. With a diamond trick later, the contract was set.

False - carding of this type is a defensive art. If East had played the four on the first spade trick, declarer would have led the ace, would win and the ten would drop, saving declarer the loss of a trump trick.

BOTTOLFS-PETTIBONE
In a quiet ceremony Saturday in the social room of First Presbyterian church, Miss Ardyce Pettibone, youngest daughter of Mrs. R. D. Pettibone, of Edmonton, was married to Mr. Odin Bottolfs, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bottolfs, of Edmonton. Rev. Glen Campbell officiated.

For her nuptials the bride chose an afternoon frock in pastel blue with which she wore brown accessories to contrast. A corsage of red roses completed her ensemble.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of Mrs. R. D. Pettibone, where Mrs. Bottolfs, the bride's mother, and Mr. Bottolfs, the groom's mother, were present.

For her honeymoon trip to Jasper and Banff, the bride wearing a turquoise suit with navy accessories, was accompanied by a corsage of American Beauty roses.

Germans Consider War Still Raging

(Editorial) This is another in a series of columns written for the Associated Press by representative Germans, expressing their own unvarnished view of their country's future. A German Jewish girl, identified, gives her impression of Germany under Allied rule.

BERLIN—I must admit, unfortunately, that I belong to the few Germans who still feel liberated and who are grateful for it. My countrymen consider themselves still at war. They make no difference between their life now and the way they have lived for 12 years. I feel like an outsider when I listen to their opinions or argue with them.

What strikes me most of all is that they have forgotten they lost the war, or worse, if they remember it, they only know how to make demands, and their general attitude toward the Allies is that they are "Nazis under a different pretext."

It is sickening to see that nobody feels guilty or depressed over atrocities committed during the war in their name. They feel free of any guilt once they have offered a piece of dry bread to a Jew.

The Allies are making difficult any inner change of progress in their political attitudes. Russia alone is demonstrating a clear political line by pursuing a firm and permanent course. I leave out all criticism of the Russian policy, but the British and particularly the Americans have no clear policy for the Germans to learn from. They have programs and show here and there bits of democracy—that is all.

There is a persistent rumor throughout Germany that there will be a war with Russia. Some of the blame for this rumor belongs to the Allies, and their attitude to each other.

The main problem is that Germany is exercising no Allied policy. The whole world today is suffering from the lack of co-operation, but this is a particularly bad example for a nation which is sitting again on a school bench to learn the political alphabet from the beginning.

U.N. May Argue Palestine Case

NEW YORK, (AP)—The United Nations security council, which has been enjoying a lull for 10 days, may get going again this week, including the explosive Palestine question.

In addition to the Palestine question, the other three were requested from Spain that the council settle a French-Spanish dispute over the boundaries between Spain and Indochina, resumed from a request for a ruling on the ownership of the Falkland Islands, disputed by Argentina and Great Britain, and an Egyptian request for U.N. intervention in the Sudan, after the withdrawal of British troops from Egypt.

Latest demands that the Palestine question be taken up by the council came from the Chinese, who are insisting that the Chinese are "a threat to the peace of the world." The Arab League already has indicated it would move to bring the case before the council if Britain refused its demands for Palestine independence.

Tension in Siam Still Mounting

BANGKOK, (AP)—Tension increased in troubled Siam Saturday as police arrested a national assemblyman and searched the home of two other assemblymen and four journalists.

The actions represented an effort to halt opposition charges that the government had suppressed information concerning the death of King Ananda Mahidol, or was directly implicated in it. Premier Pridi Phanomyong has urged the national assembly to revive the wartime state of national emergency, internal police censorship and appointed a former police general as commander-in-chief of the Siamese army.

Abandon Search for Gloster Meteor

OTTAWA, (CP)—Aerial search for the Gloster Meteor missing in northern Ontario for more than a week with its pilot, P. L. W. H. McKenna of St. Vital, Man., has been abandoned, the military headquarters announced Sunday night.

If further reports are received which would make an air search useful, special flights will be immediately sent out.

P. L. McKenna was flying the Meteor in Malton, Ont., after winterization tests at Edmonton.

Greenland Wants Be Independent

COPENHAGEN, (Reuters)—An independent democracy is in the making beyond the Arctic circle. Greenland, the world's largest island in which fewer than 20,000 people live in nearly 850,000 square miles, is approaching the age of majority, able to stand on its own centralized government.

To deal with the many and diverse problems of an independent democracy, a joint committee was formed consisting of eight members of the Greenland committee of the Danish house of commons and six delegates from Greenland.

The Greenlanders now want only one governor and one central council, elected directly by the people. The municipal councils want more independence in local matters.

Tires are rationed again in Chile, to cut skyrocketing prices.

Facing Greatest Crime Increase, U.S. Has Murder Each 6 Minutes

WASHINGTON, (AP)—J. Edgar Hoover, director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, said Saturday the United States "is facing a potential army of 6,000,000 criminals" as an ever increasing wave of lawlessness which is feeding the criminal ranks with a never ending supply of recruits.

Our homes and our lives," Mr. Hoover declared, "are daily threatened by this vast army. Law enforcement today is facing one of its most gigantic tasks."

The crime increase so far this year is even greater than the 12.4 percent increase recorded for 1945. And every 201 seconds last year a serious crime was committed.

Governor-General's Son Learns To Swim

The governor-general's youngest son, 6½-year-old Brian Alexander, listens closely to last-minute instructions from "Alicky" McKenna, swimming instructor in Ottawa and instructor-member of the newly-formed Royal Canadian Life Saving society, as he lowers himself into the pool for his initial "side swim." Brian's pride in himself and his instructor after his success was too great to say much, but he did manage to give the English boy's version of "well" — "It's a jolly good pool," he managed to say, "and a wonderful country," he said as an after-thought. In the background is a companion, beginner, son of Maj. Mark Milbank, aide-de-camp.

Inadequate Planning Is Seen U.K. Government Weakness

LONDON.—Too little planning, not too much money to devote to principal weakness in Britain's new social government.

The Times, choosing the first anniversary of Labor's election to office as an opportunity to appraise its progress, says the government has made too much Socialist legislation into parliament in too short a time. This has placed extremely heavy and perhaps excessive burden upon the government's civil service and local authorities.

Many ministers, the times says editorially, are so burdened with the complex tasks of administration that they have scarcely time to think of all about general policy and certainly no chance to arrive at considered decisions about the numerous great issues of permanent significance. One example of overloading has been enormous administrative difficulties encountered in the single task of giving the decision to nationalize coal mines, a practical and workable form of a task which is just beginning.

The Times' criticism is a premature announcement of ill-considered decision to nationalize some part of the steel industry, which has provided an even more conspicuous example of confused consequences which may result from the government's apparent determination to carry through five years' work in one or two sessions.

The Times concedes labor was given by the electorate the duty of carrying through its Socialist experiment; but it believes that even so the government should have imposed upon itself restraint of much stricter schedule of legislative priorities.

So far, the government has done creditably on the whole, the Times says, of building up British production and export. But the real test will come when the government returns to normal peacetime conditions and Britain no longer can sell in a protected market but must sell on the competitive market to pay its debts.

The general election anniversary also brings from the Times' parliamentary correspondent report that the Conservative party is preparing a campaign by which it hopes to bring within its membership on a firm contractual basis before the June 30, said the party in past and others comprising a floating vote who may be seeking political faith in other parties. The main task of the Conservatives, in words of official spokesmen, is to convince the public that the principles of Conservatism and its policy offer effective alternatives to Socialism.

ABOARD U.S.S. MT. MCKINLEY, (AP)—Col. T. J. Betts, assistant chief of staff for the atomic task force intelligence, said Sunday a missing color movie film was a series of technical pictures made prior to A-Day. "We are concerned about it," Col. Betts added.

Maritime Fires Cause Heavy Loss

SYDNEY, N.S. (CP)—Forest fires caused thousands of dollars damage throughout Cape Breton during the week-end before it was brought under control by a heavy rainfall early Sunday.

The fire for the threatened extinction of the fishing village of Main A. District wiping out the property of a nearby farmer. Scores of residents evacuated their homes as precautionary measures.

Firefighting equipment from the Point Edward naval base was rushed to the area and helped effectively to combat fires which had started Friday in under dry woods.

Wells' Suggestion Called Nonsense

LONDON, (CP)—Sir Oswald Mosley, former leader of the British Fascist union, declared Saturday night that H. G. Wells' questioning whether the British royal family was "involved in any payment of Italian funds to Mosley's group was "the most fantastic sort of nonsense."

He said, "The royal family had no connection with the Fascist movement or, so far as I know, with politics of any kind."

Wells has always disliked the royal family, he has always disliked it. Now he has got his hatreds muddled."

Asked whether the royal family had added Mosley, Sir Oswald Alexander, keeper of the privy purse, exclaimed, "My God, no!"

Eastern Germany Grows Much Food

By Henry Burroughs
BERLIN, (AP)—Germany's bread basket—the Soviet-occupied province of Thuringia and Saxony—is producing pre-war quantities of grain, potatoes and apples, and exporting great quantities to supply the entire Russian occupied zone.

United States correspondents, as guests of the Russians, toured throughout the solidly planted land. It was evident every bit of farm land was being used. The grain was growing right up to factory walls and fences in numerous instances.

Soviet land reform has little or no effect on the food production in this section because less than 10 percent of the land is affected. We were taken to a large farm which had belonged to a Pole who since has disappeared into one of the western zones, and his 312-acre farm has been divided into 12 to 17-acre tracts.

The recipients of the land in this case were all men who had farmed for the former owner. Each had been allotted, besides the land, a house and barn, a horse, cow, pig, and a few chickens. Some of the new harrow with the threshing machines and tractors being used.

Fifteen hundred new farm owners have been created in this manner in one district, according to a German agriculture official who accompanied correspondents. He said at present an added incentive in the form of a 100 percent state-paid subsidy was given the individual farmer for potato production. Potatoes, barley, wheat, rye and oats are the main crops.

Mackinnon Lauds Prairie Farmers

OTTAWA—Trade and Commerce Minister James A. Mackinnon Monday had high praise for wheat producers of the prairie provinces whose co-operation had made possible the huge shipments of wheat and flour from Canada during the past six critical months.

Canada, the minister said, completed a 4,000,000 long-ton wheat and flour export program equivalent of 150,000,000 bushels of wheat during the six months ending June 30, 1946. This was the objective set forth in the Combined Food Board last December.

In addition, Canada provided 13,500,000 bushels of oats during the six months ending June 30, which was shipped to Europe for human consumption.

During the 12 months ending June 30, 1946, when wheat and flour shipments amounted to 372,000,000 bushels, second largest wheat export moment in the history of the Canadian grain trade.
